

Jatin Agarwal

Jatin Agarwal is working as VP, Marketing at Axiva SicheM Biotech.

He is responsible for conducting corporate finance related analysis to understand capital markets performance and value drivers for clients and their industries : long-term TRS decomposition, understanding past performance (ROIC disaggregation, margins, etc.), estimating expectations (trading & transaction comps, and DCF) and client-specific analysis such as M&A Capacity analysis.

Gather key client requirements of projects across sectors to support emerging hypothesis through research and analytics, industry analysis, benchmarking and case specific analysis, key role is to build strong client communication & brand outreach across channels, working with R&D team for enhancing product portfolio and managing the marketing team & Evaluating investments in the consumer goods and financial services industries.

End-to-end role involving deal scouting through network, engagement with entrepreneurs, detailed investment analysis, documentation and portfolio management